

Rejoice, Rejoice (Receive, Rest, and Believe)

(Brad Kilman)

A

Rejoice rejoice the coming of the King is near
Rejoice rejoice the coming of the King is near Rejoice rejoice the coming of the King, let every heart bring Sincere praises to the King of kings

Let Him give you a new song
Sing of salvation
Let Him give you a new song
Sing of what He's done for you
Rejoice rejoice sing to Him a new song
Rejoice rejoice sing to Him a new song
Release a melody
Let your heart be free
Rise up in freedom bought by Jesus the King
Let us rise up in freedom purchased by Jesus the king

We rejoice in His coming
And wait for His return
We rejoice that He came
And we wait for Him to come again
We rejoice that You came
And we wait for Your return

We set our hearts upon heaven
Upon the things to come
Upon what You've already done
We rejoice when we think of what You've done
You are faithful to complete this thing
You've already started in me
The light You have shown
The truth You've revealed

More to come, more to come
More to come, more to come
More to come, more to come

Hold out the hands of your heart to receive
Hold out the hands of your heart to receive
Because I am good
Because I am faithful
I will complete the thing I have begun in you
Open the hands of your heart to receive
Open the hands of your heart to receive
